THE ROLE OF PARLIAMENTS IN ESTABLISHING INNOVATIVE INTERNATIONAL FINANCING AND TRADING MECHANISMS TO ADDRESS THE PROBLEM OF DEBT AND ACHIEVE THE MILLENNIUM DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Preliminary draft resolution prepared by the co-Rapporteurs
Mr. Osvaldo Martínez (Cuba) and Mr. Robert del Picchia (France)

At this stage, the preliminary draft resolution consists of three separate sections:

- Section A contains all the paragraphs on which both co-Rapporteurs have agreed;
- Section B contains additional paragraphs proposed by Mr. O. Martínez, which the other co-Rapporteur does not entirely support;
- Section C contains additional paragraphs proposed by Mr. R. del Picchia, which the other co-Rapporteur does not entirely support.

Section A

The 112th Assembly of the Inter-Parliamentary Union,

- (1) Recalling the Declaration adopted on 1 September 2000 by the Presiding Officers of National Parliaments entitled "The Parliamentary Vision of International Cooperation on the Eve of the Third Millennium",
- (2) Recalling also the Millennium Declaration of 8 September 2000, which sets out the Millennium Development Goals as criteria established jointly by the international community for the elimination of poverty, as well as the Human Development Reports drawn up by the United Nations Development Programme,
- (3) Recalling the final declarations of specialised United Nations conferences, in particular the International Conference on Financing for Development, held in Monterrey, Mexico in 2002; the World Summit on Sustainable Development, held in Johannesburg, South Africa in 2002; and the Third United Nations Conference on Least Developed Countries, held in Brussels, Belgium in 2001,
- (4) Recalling the Declaration adopted in New York on 20 September 2004 by 120 countries at the end of the Summit for Action against Hunger and Poverty,

(5) Recalling the resolutions of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, particularly those adopted by the 73rd Inter-Parliamentary Conference (Lomé, 1985) on the role of parliaments and their contribution towards the elimination of poverty by eliminating the burden of international debt; the 74th Inter-Parliamentary Conference (Ottawa, 1985) on the contribution of parliaments to the search for measures and actions aimed at removing the burden of foreign debt that weighs on the developing countries; the 88th Inter-Parliamentary Conference (Stockholm, 1992) on the need for a radical solution to the problem of debt in the developing world; and the 102nd Inter-Parliamentary Conference (Berlin, 1999) on the need to revise the current global financial and economic model, as well as the Final Document of the Inter-Parliamentary Conference "North-South Dialogue for Global Prosperity" organised by the IPU in Ottawa in 1993, and the resolutions adopted by the 107th Conference (Marrakesh, 2002) on the role of parliaments in developing public policy in an era of globalisation, multilateral institutions and international trade agreements, by the 108th Conference (Santiago, 2003) on parliament's role in strengthening democratic institutions and human development in a fragmented world, and by the 109th Assembly (Geneva, 2003) on global public goods: a new challenge for parliaments,

(6) Deeply concerned that in the current state of affairs, the financing of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), and thus their implementation, is not ensured,

(7) Noting that the three main sources of funding for development - public development assistance, debt relief and the growth that should be generated by the conclusion of international trade negotiations - are unable to generate the extra 50 to 100 billion dollars required annually to achieve the MDGs,

(8) Noting that the development assistance commitment (provision of 0.7 per cent of gross domestic product) is still not being met, but noting with satisfaction that some countries have undertaken to meet these commitments by 2010,

(9) Noting that despite the progress made bilaterally and multilaterally in debt cancellation in the framework of the Bretton Woods institutions, the burden of the debt remains a major constraint and an obstacle to human development,

(10) Convinced that globalisation is at the same time a source of opportunities and problems for all countries, and that it has an impact on people's everyday lives,

(11) Noting the growing importance of international trade and its direct influence on the development and well-being of the nations of the entire world, and concerned at the fact that the current international trade system is apparently distorted in favour of the developed countries, and poses problems for many developing countries,

(12) Noting that awareness has grown since the Fourth Ministerial Meeting of the World Trade Organization (WTO) held in Doha, which placed the interests and concerns of the poor countries at the centre of international trade negotiations and drew up the Doha Development Agenda,

(13) Welcoming the breakthrough, with the Geneva agreement of July 2004, in the negotiations conducted by the WTO, following the failure of the Cancun meeting,

(14) Nonetheless concerned about the many uncertainties that remain in those negotiations,

(15) Noting the striking lack of resources currently available to achieve the MDGs by 2015, and underscoring the responsibility of governments and the parliaments which provide them with oversight to respect the commitments made at the Millennium Summit in 2000,

1. Encourages the parliaments of the developed countries to demand that their governments respect their commitments in respect of development assistance;
2. Urges the parliaments of the developing countries to make sure that their governments mobilise the resources required for development, continue institutional reform, adopt the economic and social policies appropriate to stimulate growth, establish national strategies which place the MDGs at the centre of their policies, promote democracy and human rights and follow the principles of good governance;
3. Encourages the governments of the developed and developing countries to submit annual reports on the application and implementation of these strategies;
4. Suggests that provisions should be made for the same kind of approach (strategy and report) at the regional level;
5. Urges donor countries, in particular in the framework of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), to draw up reports on the implementation of Goal 8 of the MDGs (develop a global partnership for development), demonstrating the action they have taken to achieve such objectives;
6. Suggests that such reports should give rise to a parliamentary debate at the national, and if possible, regional level;
7. Underscores the unbearable nature of the debt for a large number of developing countries and calls urgently for debt cancellation procedures to be speeded up;
8. Suggests that a link be established between debt cancellation and the earmarking of resources thus freed up for investments related to the MDGs, in particular in the fields of health, education and gender equality;
9. Recommends that the status of highly indebted poor countries (HIPC) be given to certain countries that are large or have intermediate incomes, and which have serious debt crises;
10. Expresses the wish that the expectations of the developing countries be systematically taken into consideration in international trade negotiations under way in the framework of the WTO, in particular in respect of poverty alleviation, food security and sustainable income;
11. Emphasises the central role of parliaments as the incarnation of popular sovereignty in expressing the will of peoples in international forums;
12. Recommends the establishment of specialised committees to follow up on international trade negotiations and to provide oversight of government action;

13. Requests governments to inform their parliaments fully of the state of negotiations and the stakes involved;
14. Requests the IPU Secretariat, working with the WTO, to help strengthen the capacities of parliaments in this field;
15. Suggests that governments include parliamentarians in the delegations that the executive branch sends to take part in WTO ministerial meetings;
16. Welcomes with deep satisfaction the adoption of the Declaration on Action against Hunger and Poverty by 120 countries on 20 September 2004 at the United Nations, aimed in particular at supporting the establishment of new international financing tools for the MDGs;
17. Recommends the establishment of an international tax by means of a treaty whose ratification would be subject to authorisation by parliaments;
18. Requests that the Speakers' Conference to be held at the United Nations in 2005 follow up on this matter.

Section B (proposals of Mr. O. Martínez)

New preambular paragraphs (5bis) and (5ter)

Add two new paragraphs after the fifth preambular paragraph, as follows:

Greatly concerned by the fact that 1.2 billion people – or one in five persons in the world – survive on less than a dollar a day, and that in the 1990s, poverty worsened in 54 countries, leaving them poorer at the end of the decade than in 1990,

Concerned by the fact that even if the proportion of people in extreme poverty were to be halved by 2015 in comparison with 1990, it is clear that at least 900 million people in the underdeveloped world would continue to live in complete destitution,

New preambular paragraph (6bis)

Add a new preambular paragraph after the sixth preambular paragraph, as follows:

Drawing attention to the fact that, in order to halve poverty by 2015 and achieve the Millennium Development Goals, the annual growth rates of the underdeveloped countries would have to be between 6 and 8 per cent for the next decade,

New preambular paragraph (11bis)

Add a new preambular paragraph after the eleventh preambular paragraph, as follows:

Noting that many underdeveloped countries are increasingly excluded from trade and capital flows, while the social polarisation and poverty of such countries is reaching extremely alarming levels,

New preambular paragraph (12bis)

Add a new preambular paragraph after the twelfth preambular paragraph, as follows:

Noting that in recent times many proposals have been made to address the need to take measures to combat hunger and poverty in the world, which has been on the international agenda in recent decades,

New preambular paragraph (15bis)

Add a new preambular paragraph after the fifteenth preambular paragraph, as follows:

Considering that if there is a genuine desire to ensure the general development of peoples, parliamentarians must carry out campaigns to underscore the need to meet international commitments already made in respect of development, exploring strategies that bring about substantial changes in the financing of official development assistance and that ensure access to new technologies, and must explore new, appropriate financing mechanisms, additional to existing ones.

Section C (proposals of Mr. R. del Picchia)

New preambular paragraph (15bis)

Add a new preambular paragraph after the fifteenth preambular paragraph, as follows:

Considering that a new resource should be set up, additional to existing mechanisms, and that it should be at the same time predictable, concessional and stable,

Operative paragraph 16

Amend the paragraph to read as follows:

16. Welcomes with deep satisfaction the adoption of the Declaration on Action against Hunger and Poverty by 120 countries on 20 September 2004 at the United Nations, aimed in particular at supporting the establishment of new international financing tools for the MDGs that are at the same time predictable, concessional and stable;
