OTHER EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Monday, 2 April 2012

- 12 noon – 1 p.m. Launch of the *Global Parliamentary Report Victoria Hall
KSCC
(ground floor)
- The Global Parliamentary Report will be launched during a special session of the Assembly. The Report investigates the state of relations between parliaments and citizens. It analyses the challenges and parliamentary responses, and provides examples of good practice. Following a presentation of the Report's conclusions, delegates will be invited to take part in an interactive debate on ways to modernize parliament and renew the relationship with citizens. The Report is a joint publication of the IPU and UNDP. The lead author, Mr. Greg Power, will lead informal discussions with delegates on the Report's themes throughout the Assembly.

Tuesday, 3 April 2012

- 9 a.m. – 12 noon Panel discussion on *Tackling malnutrition in young children: The role of parliamentarians Gardenia Hall
Imperial Royale Hotel
(ground floor)
- Child malnutrition is a hidden crisis that threatens to reverse development gains. There are however effective and efficient ways to address this crisis. The cost of intervention is small; the payoff is large; and the MDGs will not be met unless this crisis is tackled.
- The aims of this IPU–UNICEF panel are to inform legislators on the ways of combating malnutrition in young children and pregnant women, and to facilitate an exchange of views on what parliaments and their members can do to promote progress in this area. Particular attention needs to be paid to policies for improving mother and child nutrition; their integration in national development plans; and the provision of essential supplies, food and training for community workers involved in child nutrition and health care.
- Panellists include members of parliament, representatives of civil society as well as UNICEF representatives.
- 10 a.m. – 11 a.m. Renewing the IPU website: Focus group for parliamentarians Achwa Room
KSCC
(first floor)
- Work to rebuild the IPU website will begin in 2012. To make it as useful as possible, the IPU Secretariat wishes to hear from parliamentarians about the kind of information they need from the IPU. The focus group will be an open, informal discussion, led by the IPU's Director of Communications. The focus group will be held in English.
- 11 a.m. Address by His Excellency Mr. Edward Kiwanuka Ssekandi, Vice-President of the Republic of Uganda, to the Assembly Victoria Hall
KSCC
(ground floor)

- 12.30 – 2.30 p.m. Informal panel discussion on *Disaster risk reduction and sustainable development Gardenia Hall
Imperial Royale
Hotel
(ground floor)
- Countries are recognizing more and more that disaster risk reduction is crucial to sustainable development. Increased commitment to and action on disaster risk reduction will accelerate development, protect investments and reduce poverty. In response, the IPU, the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) and the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs have been working together to develop a "Model Act" based on the internationally accepted "Guidelines for the Domestic Facilitation and Regulation of International Disaster Relief and Initial Recovery Assistance".
- The panel discussion will offer the opportunity to share views and experiences on the linkages between disasters, development and risk reduction. It will also offer MPs the opportunity to learn more about the Model Act and the Global Resilient City Campaign.
- The event is open to all delegates. Interpretation will be provided in English, French and Spanish.
- 3 p.m. – 5.30 p.m. Panel discussion on *Making the law work for the response to AIDS: zero new infections, zero discrimination and zero AIDS-related deaths Gardenia Hall
Imperial Royale
Hotel
(ground floor)
- Today, progress against AIDS is picking up pace thanks to the bold and committed actions of political leaders, scientists and affected persons. Infection rates are dropping across the world, and antiretroviral treatment has been proven not only to save lives, but also to reduce infectiousness by 96 per cent.
- However, laws themselves have not always kept pace with scientific or political developments. As a result, many countries still have laws, regulations or policies that present obstacles to effective HIV prevention, treatment, care and support. From a global perspective, recognition of the critical relevance of the law with regard to HIV has led to a growing commitment by States to ensure that laws, policies and regulations support effective AIDS responses.
- The panel discussion will focus on the successes and challenges in making laws work for the AIDS response, reflecting on how they can combat discrimination and ease access to HIV prevention and treatment.
- The IPU–UNAIDS event is open to all delegates. Interpretation will be provided in Arabic, English, French and Spanish.
- 3.30 – 5.30 p.m. Open briefing session of the Committee to promote respect for international humanitarian law on *Health care in situations of conflict and violence Achwa Room
(first floor)
- Violence against health-care workers, facilities and beneficiaries is one of the most serious humanitarian challenges in the world today. And yet it frequently goes unrecognized. Tangible solutions exist; others need to be devised.
- The session will bring together experts from the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), as well as MPs, to discuss ways and means of protecting health care in situations of conflict and violence. It will pay particular attention to the role of parliaments in adopting laws and overseeing their enforcement as a mechanism to secure the provision of health care.

Wednesday, 4 April 2012

9.30 a.m. – 12 noon Parliamentary oversight of government external loans and related processes
Workshop and launch of a joint global survey report (IPU, World Bank and IMF)

Gardenia Hall
Imperial Royale Hotel
(ground floor)

Parliamentary oversight of loan agreements and related processes helps enhance national ownership of development and is an important element of the aid effectiveness agenda. The loans that governments contract with the World Bank and IMF often come with conditions attached that must then be taken up by parliaments through the legislative process.

This interactive workshop will discuss the findings of a new global survey that investigates the extent to which parliaments possess a proper legal authority to ratify loans, as well as effective practices to oversee loan approval and related processes. The survey was conducted in 2011 as a joint initiative of the IPU, the World Bank and the IMF, and involved some 100 parliaments in developing countries and transition economies. It presents data never collected before and provides a first baseline to measure future progress in parliamentary oversight of these important processes.

12 noon – 1 p.m. Renewing the IPU website: Focus group for IPU Group Secretaries
Work to rebuild the IPU website will begin in 2012. To make it as useful as possible, the IPU Secretariat wishes to hear from IPU Group Secretaries about how they use the IPU website and the kind of information they need from the IPU. The focus group will be an open, informal discussion, led by the IPU's Director of Communications. The focus group will be held in English.

Achwa Room
KSCC
(first floor)

Thursday, 5 April 2012

10.30 – 12.30 p.m. Informal meeting of young parliamentarians
The meeting aims to discuss follow-up to the IPU resolution on Youth participation in the democratic process (2010). It will focus on the "youth" contribution to politics and to the IPU.

Achwa Room
KSCC
(first floor)
