9.30 a.m. – 12 noon	Parliamentary oversight of government external loans and related processes  Workshop and launch of a joint global survey report (IPU, World Bank and IMF)          Parliamentary oversight of loan agreements and related processes helps enhance national ownership of development and is an important element of the aid effectiveness agenda. The loans that governments contract with the World Bank and IMF often come with conditions attached that must then be taken up by parliaments through the legislative process. This interactive workshop will discuss the findings of a new global survey that investigates the extent to which parliaments possess a proper legal authority to ratify loans, as well as effective practices to oversee loan approval and related processes. The survey was conducted in 2011 as a joint initiative of the IPU, the World Bank and the IMF, and involved some 100 parliaments in developing countries and transition economies. It presents data never collected before and provides a first baseline to measure future progress in parliamentary oversight of these important processes.	Gardenia Hall Imperial Royale Hotel (ground floor)
